WHOLESALE BUY ARMY FOODS; SELL AT A BIG PROFIT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Evidence that foods are being stored in furniture storage warehouses and that wholesale grocers bought canned goods from the government at varying prices and sold them at a good profit was brought out today at an inquiry conducted by the city food bureau. One wholesaler said his profit was 33 1/2 per cent. Another admitted changing the labels and selling the government canned goods as his own brand.

One storage house man admitted that foods were being stored in the furniture warehouses. Another made a denial but the chairman of the bureau replied to him that he had evidence that thousands of dollars worth of food were stored in his warehouse and that Morris and Company alone had 20,000 cases there.

A wholesaler who said much food is being stored, said that shipments to Europe were leaving little surplus in the United States. His firm bought 25,704 cases of string beans from a government warehouse here at 8 1/2 cents a can or $1 a case of 12 cans and sold them to retailers at $1.35.

One wholesaler brought canned beans from the government at nine cents a can and sold them for $1.35 a case.

Still another bought beans at 8 1/4 cents a can and sold at $1.25 a case and admitted he had removed the labels and substituted his own.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13.—Hundreds of cases of surplus army foodstuffs were sold in a few hours at the city's mammoth sale which opened this morning. Twelve hundred were served within an hour after the sale opened. City officials were of the opinion that the entire 20 car loads of goods would be disposed of this afternoon.

TO KEEP GERMAN SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Some of the seized German liners are to be retained permanently by the United States as a part of the army transport corps. Chief of Staff March to day told the house military committee.

President Wilson has definitely decided on the allocation of the ships. He said, but asked to be excused from discussing the plan of disposal which would be announced soon.

HEADQUARTERS OF PERSHING OPENED IN WASHINGTON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—General John J. Pershing today re-established headquarters of the American expeditionary forces at the war department where more than two years ago he took up a task the results of which astounded the world, to him brought fame and to this country undying glory.

General Pershing was welcomed upon his return to the national capital late yesterday with a fitting demonstration of gratitude to the man who led the American armies to victory in France. In the headquarters where they began, General Pershing and his staff will wind up the affairs of the greatest force for overseas operations ever organized in the history of the world.

Shouts from the crowds which packed the enclosure of Union Station welcomed General Pershing when he stepped from his special train to be met by Secretary Baker and General March, chief of staff. Escorted by cavalry General Pershing rode to his hotel with Vice President Marshall in the latter's automobile. Street crowds waived and cheered all along the line of the procession as it moved up Pennsylvania avenue and at the hotel the streets were blocked with people.

Appropriate to the occasion of General Pershing's return to Washington, a resolution proposing the gift of a sword to the ranking officer of the American expeditionary forces has been given right of way for consideration in the house today.

The resolution, which tenders the thanks of the American people and the congress to General Pershing and the men of the American expeditionary forces would appropriate $10,000 for purchase of the sword.

A victory parade will be held here Wednesday in which General Pershing will lead the first division and receive the formal greeting of the capital.

Hours before General Pershing's call on Secretary Baker there was a mobilization of spectators in front of Mr. Baker's office.

After his conference with Mr. Baker, General Pershing's program was to go to his offices here in the old land office building to re-establish headquarters in Washington for the American expeditionary forces.

This was General Pershing's fifty-ninth birthday. He was born on September 13, 1860.

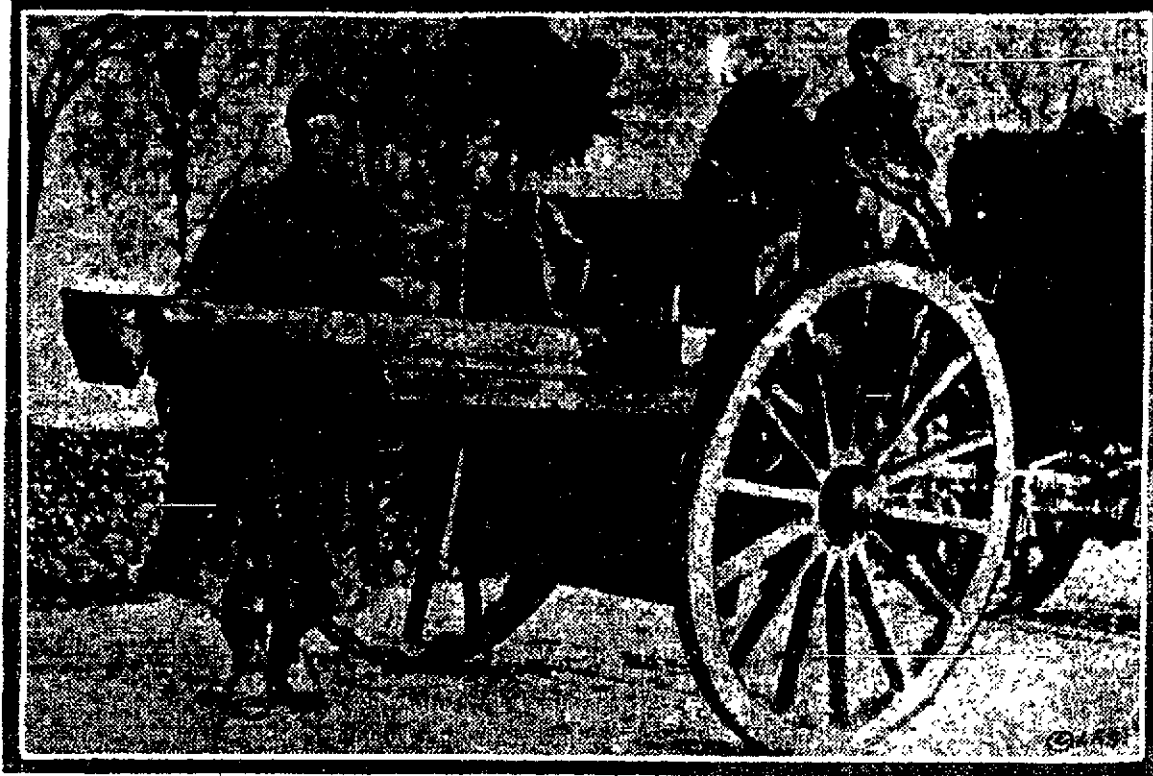

General Pershing will dine tonight with his father-in-law, Senator Warren, of Wyoming. It will be a private dinner with only a few guests.

Hoover Home As Private Citizen

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Herbert C. Hoover, who has been overseas since the armistice was signed as interrelated relief director was among the passengers on the liner Aquitania, which arrived here early today. With him are his wife and son Allan. He will remain here for the dinner to be tendered in his honor on Tuesday by the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers and then go to his home at Palo Alto, Calif.

VOTE AGAINST DIRECT ACTION
GLASGOW, Sept. 13.—By a comparatively close vote the trades union congress in session here today voted down a resolution declaring against the principle of direct action. The vote was 2,776,000 against the resolution to 2,044,000 in its favor.

First American Gun to Fire on Germans, Which Had Place
of Honor Behind Pershing in New York Parade

This cannon, the first American gun to hurl a shell into the German lines, made its way quietly and sedately down Fifth avenue in the parade of the First Division when New York honored General Pershing. This photograph, taken in Europe, shows the gun and the dough boys who served it.

SINN FEIN ASSEMBLY AT DUBLIN SUPPRESSED DOCUMENTS ARE SEIZED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
CORK, Sept. 13.—The military and police raids, which began yesterday in connection with the proclamation of the suppression of the Sinn Fein parliament and Sinn Fein organizations throughout Ireland, were continued today. During the morning the raiders proceeded to the house of David Kent, a Sinn Fein member of parliament and searched the place. The raiders met with no opposition, the search proceeding without incident.

DUBLIN, Sept. 13.—The Sinn Fein Parliament was suppressed after a search of rooms used as the headquarters of the organization. Two Sinn Fein members of the House of Commons were arrested. They are Ernest Blythe, member for Monaghan, north, and Patrick O'Keefe, member for northern division of Cork county.

The documents seized related to the loan of the Irish republic and to the correspondence upon which the report of the American delegates who visited Ireland was based.

An exhaustive search was also made of the private house of Count Plunket and that of the Sinn Fein member of parliament, Michael Staines.

This is the 12th raid that has been made upon the Sinn Fein headquarters here.

At Skibbereen, in the southwest part of County Cork, armed police raided a newspaper office and also a number of private residences.

The Irish Parliament, or "Dail Eireann," as it was known in Gaelic, was formed in Dublin on January 21 by 25 members of the Sinn Fein party, who had been elected to the British House of Commons and who, in accordance with a resolution adopted by the society, refused to go to Westminster. At the inaugural meeting the "Dail Eireann" adopted a declaration of independence and demanded the evacuation of the island by the British garrisons.

The British government at first determined to adopt the policy of ignoring the "Parliament" and the action taken in suppressing it is the first official action taken in its respect.

LIMERICK, Ireland, Sept. 13.—The police raided the Catholic Commercial club here. The majority of the members of the club are affiliated with the Sinn Fein organization. The authorities declined to give out details as to the results of the raid.

SINN FEIN HOUSES SEARCHED.
GALWAY, Sept. 13.—A large body of police and soldiers searched the houses of Sinn Fein leaders here. Documents of a political nature were seized.

LIMERICK, Ireland, Sept. 13.—Police and soldiers in full marching order searched houses and factories

here. It is reported they found nothing of moment.

LONDONDERRY, Sept. 13.—While the police were seizing Sinn Fein documents in a house in Rossvee, here a stone was thrown. The officer in command ordered the troops to fix bayonets. The crowd thereupon dispersed.

Reports from various districts in Donegal say that large parties of military are arriving. Detachments also have reached Nenagh and Hallinacree, where rifles and shotguns were captured.

While the troops were carrying to the barracks arms which had been seized in Londonderry a crowd on the streets threw stones at the soldiers, upon which a baton charge took place, clearing the thoroughfares.

Sinn Fein members of the House of Commons spoke to a crowd from a motor lorry opposite the barracks. The police broke up this gathering also.

Austrians Refuse To Give Up Kun

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
PARIS, Sept. 13.—The Austrian government has refused to accede to Hungary's demand for the extradition of Bela Kun, virtual dictator of Budapest during the communist regime, asking for proofs of accusations of murder against him, according to Vienna newspapers. The government note to Hungary states, it is said, that upon Bela Kun's arrival in Austria he was the bearer of 200,000 crown.

Good Citizenship Day at Dayton

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
DAYTON, O., Sept. 13.—To celebrate the blessings of citizenship in free America, all Dayton joined in observance of a Good Citizenship day. Men, women and children—rich and poor alike—joined in the affair, which the committee in charge designated as timely in view of the present conditions of unrest throughout the country.

All factories were closed this afternoon so owners and workers might join in the celebration. The day's proceedings began with a program of speeches at the fair grounds. The prevailing theme was the duty of all citizens, whatever their station in life, to confront the industrial and social problems of the day with an open mind. Speakers including Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy and John P. Frye, editor of the Moultrie Journal of Cincinnati.

Italian Towns Shaken Up By An Earthquake

ROME, Sept. 13.—Several villages in the province of Siena were severely shaken last night by an earthquake. Houses collapsed or were badly damaged at Bagni, Ascina, Montorio, Radicefani, Piancastagnaio, Badia, San Salvatore and Colla. One person is dead and several are reported injured at Piancastagnaio. Ten were injured at Colla. Assistance has been sent to the province.

VULTURE FOLLOWS SHIP LOST AT SEA IN TROPICAL STORM

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 13.—The tropical storm is moving northward into Louisiana, west of the mouth of the Mississippi. Dangerously early rains probably reaching hurricane force Saturday and Sunday night changing to westerly on the west and southerly on the east coast Sunday morning are predicted also.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 13.—Many hours before the storm which sunk the Ward liner Corydon in the Bahamas channel Tuesday morning with a loss of 27 lives, a vulture followed the ship and perched on her spars, while a panic-stricken crew believing in the superstitions of the sea were convinced that they were doomed.

Such is the story brought here by eight of the crew who were 57 hours adrift on an upturned boat, battered and bruised and without food or water.

All day Sunday as the ship pursued her way in salt seas and light winds, the great bird hovered overhead Sunday night and Monday the Corydon staggered through the smashing seas. Monday night every member of the crew was engaged in a desperate battle for life.

When the vessel went under the Americans in the crew kept their heads and saved the lives of some others of the 55.

U. S. TAX RULING.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Responding to inquiries the bureau of internal revenue announced today that virtually all federal taxes, even the two cents paid for the privilege of an ice cream soda, may be deducted from gross income in computing income taxes. Only income and excess profits taxes may not be deducted.

TWO KILLED IN DUEL

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 13.—William Collins was shot and killed Hiram Hall probably fatally wounded and an unidentified man slightly wounded in a pistol duel late yesterday at Dry Creek, near Whitesburg, Ky., according to information reaching here today. An old feud is believed to have caused the shooting.

POLICEMEN'S JOBS DECLARED VACANT BY AUTHORITIES

PRESIDENT GIVEN WARM GREETING IN SPOKANE, WASH.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
SPOKANE, Wash., Sept. 13.—Emphasizing as his keynote in two speeches the unqualified assertion that if the pending treaty fails there can be no reform for a generation but only disorder and possibly chaos President Wilson Friday invaded the Panhandle of Idaho, at the extreme northwest of the state, and the eastern end of Washington.

The president had been warned the day before he was to visit "a not altogether agreeable section." It was an expression employed as a soft manner in which to impress upon the president that his day, particularly the stay at Coeur d'Alene in Idaho, would be in the very center of a section where a militant minority is preaching the doctrine of hostility to organized government.

However, Spokane, the home city of Senator Miles Pindexter, one of the bitter-end opponents of the peace treaty, gave President Wilson a tremendous reception. In many ways it was the most notable greeting of the entire trip.

The streets of this city of 100,000 people were choked with humanity, men, women and children lunging from every possible point of vantage on buildings along the route of the parade. Roofs of the buildings were covered with people.

More than that, the people cheered. Men waved hats and women handkerchiefs. President Wilson stood in his automobile waving his hat to the people.

Those traveling with the president party were told it was the greatest turn out in Spokane's history. Also representative citizens said the demonstration could be taken as indicating the state of Washington is not in accord with the denunciation of the peace treaty by Senator Pindexter.

Two Killed In A Traction Crash Near Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13.—Two men were killed and three injured this morning when an Akron, Bedford and Cleveland interurban car struck a Cleveland illuminating company repair wagon at Stop 10 on the A. B. C. line near here.

The dead and injured men, employees of the illuminating company, were working on an elevated platform when the car hit the truck. The dead men whose names were given as Santry and Miller, lived here.

TO ELIMINATE CROSSINGS

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 13.—Mayor Craver announced today that the work of eliminating Erie railroad grade crossings here, which will involve the destruction of many buildings and will cost millions of dollars, will begin in 1920. An agreement was reached with railroad officials after the city had decided to sue the company for contempt of court in delaying its action on a court order requiring the elimination.

NEW TUBE MILL

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 13.—Announcement was made today that the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company will build a new tube mill for its plant here, already the largest in the city. The new mill, to produce four to ten inch pipe, will cost $1,500,000. The oil boom has resulted in an unprecedented demand for oil.

To Proceed to Fill Places With Other Men, Is Announced

General Strike of All Unions Still Held to Be Possible

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 13.—Police Commissioner Curtis today announced that the posts deserted by striking policemen were vacant and that he would proceed to fill them.

A woman and a man were shot at the corner of Boylston and Tremont streets this morning during an attempt of the state guard to make loiterers move on.

The man was killed and the woman wounded in the knee. The man had engaged in an argument with one of the state guard who was trying to clear the street entrance to the subway. The state guard with fixed bayonets dispersed the quickly gathering crowds.

Gompers Intervenes

In response to a telegram from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, the policeman's union voted last night in favor of resuming their beats provided the authorities would agree to the suggestion of Mr. Gompers that the matter of their union affiliation be held in abeyance until after a conference on the labor situation called by President Wilson for October 6.

The resolutions as adopted by the union also called for the reinstatement of the nineteen patrolmen who were suspended for violation of the department rule forbidding membership in outside organizations and whose suspension was the immediate cause of the walkout last Tuesday afternoon.

Governor Coolidge had left the state house when word came of the action of the union, but it was said that a conference had been arranged with labor leaders today and that the situation might be considered at that time.

General Strike Possible

In a statement yesterday the governor said that he considered the walkout as desertion of duty rather than a strike and that he could think of "no conditions" under which the men should be taken back. He said, however, that the matter rested with Police Commissioner Curtis.

A general strike in support of the police was still a possibility today. Several unions affiliated with the Central Labor Union met last night to vote on the question of going out but in most cases action was postponed to await the outcome of the suggestion of President Gompers. The telephone operators put the question over until next Tuesday.

State guard troops continued to patrol the streets in conjunction with volunteer policemen and loyal members of the regular force. There was no repetition during the night of the rioting and looting which marked the first 48 hours of the strike and only a few arrests were made for minor offenses.

MINERS FOR PLUMB PLAN

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 13.—The United Mine Workers' convention today endorsed the Plumb plan for the nationalization of railroads, pledged the support of the miners' organization to secure its enactment, and invited the railroad brotherhoods to join with them in an alliance for joint action to be later extended into an economic alliance with labor organizations in other basic industries. The convention's action was almost unanimous.

BABY BOOTH AT COUNTY FAIR IS POPULAR PLACE

Mothers Who Desire to Benefit Their Children Come For Consultation

WORKERS ARE BUSY

Infant Health Conference Largely Looked Forward to by Women

Officers and directors of the Allen County Child Welfare association, interviewed at the close of the Fair yesterday late, were unanimous in the opinion that the work accomplished there during the week is an absolutely priceless asset in the archives of that organization; and that these results will have justified all the expense and work to which the Association has been put in this and all former years.

The feature of this year's reception and entertainment at the Child Welfare booth in the Art Hall was the actual good accomplished in a utilitarian way. In former years the feature of visits to this department was seen in the exhibit of perfectly healthy babies and children. Mothers would bring them in for an exchange of congratulations and to hear encomiums passed on them in one way or another. But this year, the good work of the Association in its appeal for an elimination of the things that produce the weaklings, the defectives, the little ones suffering from malnutrition, inanition, and lack of proper maternal care, produced wonderful results as seen in the work of the booth.

The visiting mothers were mainly of that type this year—those who really desired to know in what respects their children were under or abnormal, and what to do to remedy the trouble. They listened with rapt attention to the words of Miss Nibel the Rural Nurse who is now a permanent fixture in the work of the Welfare Association in the county; many of them made careful notes; and many were asked questions.

On Tuesday and Wednesday the callers were fewer, and many attracted from curiosity; or to see the very fine exhibits of hand work done at the city playgrounds this summer under the direction of the Association's Field worker, Miss Anna Moore and her assistants.

Booth is Crowded

But Thursday and Friday saw the booth crowded most all the time with the mothers and children needing expert advice and attention. Every day Miss Nibel was on duty; and nearly each day also saw her sister Mrs. W. E. Bayly, and Mrs. Guy Bayly there also. On Thursday afternoon, Dr. Josephine Peirce the president of the Association spent the entire afternoon in the booth helping and was very enthusiastic over results obtained.

Friday afternoon, Dr. Mabel Murphy lent her presence and services and appreciated advice. The visitors came from everywhere, the most remote parts of the county, and from nearby cities, villages and districts also. They all read with rapt attention the exhibit of placards on the walls giving rules, for measurements, proper weights at various periods of baby life, warnings against the evils of malnutrition, and what to do to avoid them, expert advice on prenatal care and from birth on up through the various stages to adolescence. The scales and the measuring board with which Miss Nibel officiated as hostess to the babies and little ones of early school age were objects of great interest to all visitors. Because of the pressure of the attendants, the babies were not undressed, as they usually are in these examinations, but were examined carefully for defects of the nose, throat, eyes and glands of the body.

Are Kept Busy

Two people were kept busy constantly recording the results of these examinations which will be of innumerable benefit; for they will be made rigorously by Miss Nibel and her assistants in her work throughout the county. The official record of examinations made is not yet complete; but it is estimated that the number will reach 500 for the week. Mrs. W. E. Bayly computed the results of Thursday afternoon, a large day. The examinations made were 125, and four women, in addition to the two records takers were kept busy almost constantly.

The officials of the Allen County Child Welfare Association in a concrete summing up of the work for the week state that its benefits are sure to be so far reaching that no praise is its behalf will be half enough; they regard the results obtained in the interests of future generations of Allen County citizens as incalculable. A great many inquiries

WIFE OF GERARD'S PRIVATE SECRETARY ASKS POLICE TO HELP FIND $6,000 NECKLACE

Mrs. H. Rivington Pyne

The police of Bernardsville, N. J., have been asked by Mrs. H. Rivington Pyne to assist in the search for a $6,000 pearl necklace. She had visited friends in the nearby mountain colony and believes that while returning by automobile she dropped the necklace while leaning over the side of the car. Mrs. Pyne's husband was private secretary to James W. Gerard while the latter was ambassador to Germany.

ies were received at the booth and at the homes of Dr. Peirce, the president, and Mrs. Bayly the secretary-treasurer, when the proposed Baby Health Conference is to be staged in Lima, and to assure these officials that they wanted to be present.

"It all goes to show" said a prominent official yesterday, "that the continual pounding away of the Association through the Lima newspapers, warning against the evils of malnutrition and insufficient care of the very young is having its good effect. All praise to the editors of these sheets for their part in this great good work."

BANKERS TO HOLD MEETING IN LIMA

Twelve Counties to Send Representatives to Convention in October

An important meeting of the executive committee of Group No. 2 of the Ohio State Bankers Association was held Friday afternoon at the Lima club. Luncheon was served at noon, followed by a brief business session. The holding of the meeting was for the purpose of deciding the date, place and program for the annual meeting of the group. Owing to the prevalence of the influenza epidemic at this time last year the meeting could not be held, but this year's program will make up for the one lost in 1915.

The group is one of eight making up the state bankers association, and includes the following counties: Allen, Auglaize, Hardin, Darke, Hancock, Mercer, Logan, Miami, Paulding, Putnam, Shelby and Van Wert.

Meet in Lima.

The meeting will be held in Lima, owing to its centralized location to practically all of the counties in the group, sometime during the first two weeks in October. The date and place have not been definitely decided however. It is expected that there will be an attendance of 200 at the meeting, which will be held one evening. H. M. Davies, of the Commercial Bank, Delphos, is chairman of the group, and C. P. Palmer of the Continental Bank, secretary.

Bankers Here.

Those who attended Friday's meeting at the Lima club included the following bankers: S. W. McFarland, People's bank, Wapakoneta; J. S. McKee, First National, Ada; W. M. Crawford, of the Exchange, Columbus Grove; S. L. Brewback, Van Wert National; H. M. Davies, Delphos Commercial; C. P. Palmer, Continental Bank; and from Lima: H. O. Jones, First National; T. G. Harris, American; E. T. Mitchell, City; F. C. Cunningham, First National; C. M. Tolan, Lima Trust.

FOR MEN WHO WORK HARD.

Men who work at hard physical labor are subject to kidney trouble. J. G. Wolf, 724 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, Wis., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills relieved me of a severe back-ache that bothered me for several months. A few bottles fixed me up in good shape." They also relieve bladder and urinary ailments. H. F. Vorkamp.

SUCCESS OF ALLEN COUNTY FAIR LEADS TO FUTURE PLANS

Attendance Thursday Show Possibilities of a Lima Exposition

NEW GROUNDS NEEDED

Laid Out For Fair Use and Live Wire Handling Will Make a Success

The most successful fair Allen county has had in many years closed Friday night and Saturday found the "caravans" moving on to the "next towns," in fair vernacular.

Findlay, Wapakoneta and Fremont drew the most of the race horses and traveling exhibitors from here, although the Troy fair, one of the largest in the state, secured a few.

During the week Adam Shaeffer, who has been the live-wire secretary of the Wapakoneta Fair, for many years, was right on the job in Lima and as a result of his vigorous canvass Wapakoneta grabbed off the bulk of both race horses and exhibitors.

A Greater Fair.

The great success of the fair this year has caused the members of the fair board and the friends of the exposition to hope for bigger things in the years to come. It must be admitted that a year or two ago it looked certain that the Allen County Fair would go by the boards when its lease on the driving park expired in 1922.

But the great success of the fair this year, under adverse circumstances, has shown the possibilities. With a new fair ground, laid out properly for better exposition space, and the network of traction lines and interurbans the Allen County Fair can be made to equal the big county fairs at Greenville, which draws enormous crowds and is the bell-ringer of Ohio county fairs.

Crowds Large.

This year's attendance at the Allen County Fair must have been close to 25,000, gross. Thursday's crowd was the largest seen on the grounds for years.

That the present fair management intends to do things is indicated by the advertisement on the race score cards "Vote for the bond issue for a new fair grounds next year."

It is known that the stockholders of the Lima Driving Park Co., owners of the grounds, wish to cut it up into building lots in 1922, when the fair lease expires, and no effort is being made to keep up the plant to its high standards set years ago.

Musical circles in Germany expect American musicians to visit there soon, believing art relations will shortly be resumed between the two nations. If we want revenge, we might not it by introducing jazz bands and musical farce in that erstwhile hostile land.

PLAYWRIGHT WHO HELD TO END ACTOR'S STRIKE

After the striking New York actors had rejected terms offered by the Producing Managers Association and it seemed that the strike would go on indefinitely, Augustus Thomas, head of the playwrights' mediation committee, brought manager and actor together again. The result was the settlement of the strike which had kept Broadway theatres darkened for about a month.

SOME OF THEM WERE THERE.

An evangelist who was conducting nightly services announced that on the following evening he would speak on the subject of "Liars." He advised his hearers to read in advance the seventeenth chapter of Mark.

The next night he arose and said: "I am going to preach on 'Liars' tonight and I would like to know how many read the chapter I suggested."

A hundred hands were upraised.

"Now," he said, "you are the very persons I want to talk to—there isn't any seventeenth chapter of Mark."—Boston Transcript.

EXPERIENCE OVERRATED.

Charles H. Schwab, who believes above all things in young men, was defending his belief at a banquet.

"Young men have energy, yes," a banker admitted, doubtfully, "but for high executive positions, don't you think experience is needed?"

"Oh, experience!" said Mr. Schwab. "Experience is an overrated article. What's the good, after all, of knowing what the weather was like day before yesterday?"—Exchange.

DON'T NEGLECT YOURSELF.

Lame back, shooting pains, torturing rheumatic aches, swollen joints, sore muscles, puffiness under eyes, floating specks, and an "always tired" feeling are indications that the kidneys and bladder are not working properly. Foley Kidney Pills soothe and strengthen weak and disordered kidneys and bladder. H. F. Vorkamp.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB ORGANIZED

At a meeting of about 60 members of the Y. M. C. A. business men's club held at the Y. M. Friday night, T. R. Hamilton was elected president of the club, which is newly organized.

Other officers include R. E. Offen-hauer vice president; I. W. Green, recording secretary; George Eckert, I. W. Green, G. O. Duplus, G. B. Stewart, George Herrett, Arthur Thomas and J. I. Motter make up the executive committee.

The election was held in connection with a banquet given in honor of Lima men who were in the service in connection with the Y. M. C. A. during the world war. The honored guests were: Warren McLaughlin, I. W. Poage, Walter Thomas, Carl Zetters and N. E. Byers, of Blinston. Each gave a short talk during the dinner which was a four course affair. Later a musical program was enjoyed, and several vocal selections were given by S. C. Biddle, Y. M. C. A. industrial secretary.

THE STORE FOR ALL THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME

Shall the radiance of Liberty's beacon burning clear through almost a century and a half in America light your way into the future, or will you follow the red glare of the incendiary's torch reflected from the blood-red fields of Eastern Europe?

Will you permit the unrestrained impulses of men loosed from autocratic bondage to carry you back to the days of savagery in America when the rugged pioneers builded their cabins and tilled the fields with rifle and powder flask slung across their shoulders?

Will you look out upon the broad cultivated fields and upon the humble cottage, the giant mills, the sturdy houses of business, the open schools, the great churches and the peaceful homes—evidences of thrift, economy, progress and independence—from the Atlantic to the Pacific and permit alien strangers to say that the torch shall be applied because they, forsooth, are not permitted to claim ownership or profit from the things which were created without their aid?

No such destructive theory can find lodgment in the minds of Americans. Our pioneer fathers set Liberty's beacon burning to light the way. They followed no false light. The humble cabin grew of their own efforts and they protected it against the torch of the savage.

Bolshevism thrives on the principle that those who "have not" shall take from those who "have." You who have a humble cottage gained by the sweat of your brow or by the application of intelligently directed effort must divide it with those whose unfortunate situation made it impossible for them to do likewise, or who are too lazy to work.

America has no place within its borders for the red torch of anarchy nor the immoral theories of the alien doctrinaires who would tear down the flag of American Liberty and substitute the incendiary's torch for that of Liberty's beacon.

Your safety, and that of your fellow men, demands that Liberty's Light be kept burning.

They itched and pained and at times I lost sleep.

XXXI—I Have Friends to Dine

I was giving my postponed dinner party. My guest list had enlarged of itself from the small company which I had planned to include only Elizabeth Carlton, George Wharton, and Capt. Frazier. First, Alice called up to ask if I wouldn't do something for the Calloways whose visit had been extended, due to the tardy arrival of Maj. Calloway's orders.

"I'm positively a loss as a hostess this week, with Martin in such serious condition," she explained, "and they know a mere handful of people in town."

I promptly extended an invitation to dine, which was accepted by the Calloways, but declined by Alice, who declared that she would dampen any gaiety.

Then I called up Fan.

"Do come to dinner tomorrow night and bring Billy to act as host. Paul, as usual, will not be home and I can't put Frazier at the head of the table without causing comment."

"Billy's giving a stag party tomorrow night, but let me come and bring his love of a nephew who's visiting us. Billy's crowd will be a bad influence for the child—he's only just twenty—and I can't leave him home alone."

"Of course," I agreed, "Delighted! But why so exclusive with this child? I didn't even know Billy had a nephew."

"Chiefly because of you Nell, there's positively no age limit with you. Now do promise not to flirt with him. He's just at the impressionable age and he'll probably fall for you hard, as it is."

"I've my hands—and heart—full already, so you needn't have any misgivings about your admirable child," I promised.

I had dinner served in our apartment with the French windows opened onto our small balcony where banked flowers and ferns gave the impression of a garden. It was a very hot night but shaded candles in place of electric lights and fans secreted behind blooming plants made the rooms cool and attractive. It was a "pale green" dinner; I had planned every detail in harmony with the cool crisp shade of sea foam, and I wore a frock of sea foam tulle.

It went well, considering the dangerous currents I was crossing. Fortunately I had the foresight to pair off Billy Meredith's nephew with Mrs. Calloway, who would have bored any more experienced man, and in the interests of her enjoyment, I nobly relinquished Bob Calloway to Fan, who was none too cordial to Captain Frazier. That gentleman's imperturbability and undisguised pleasure in my proximity remained unchanged, even when Bob Calloway greeted him as a former acquaintance in much the same stiff manner as John Manning. My interest in Capt. Frazier went up several notches at this further evidence of his past iniquity, and I determined to probe until I found the secret of you. Now do promise not to flirt with him. He's just at the impressionable age and he'll probably fall for you hard, as it is."

I have seldom enjoyed my own parties, for the duties of a hostess preclude all opportunities for tete-a-tetes. A word here and a smile there and a low-toned order to the servants about constitute a hostess's intellectual contribution to a dinner party.

There was plenty of champagne and everyone was quite affable, even Mrs. Calloway, who relaxed her pose of rigid propriety and was moved to tell the Meredith nephew anecdotes of the two Calloway children. I sometimes wonder if men are not ashamed of their wives' conversation. I am sure that Paul has been frequently embarrassed by mine, but not for the same reason. I enjoy saying daring things to people who do not know me and therefore cannot understand me. I glory in their looks of perplexity, their evident embarrassment, and final half-amused, half-shocked acquiescence. I determined upon that flavor of small talk after my first summer as a flapper at the beach, when for three months I listened to feminine porch-conversation about how they made their pickles, where they got the best embroidery silk and how each husband proposed. It is small wonder that a seashore is meaningless.

Outwardly I was a demure hostess, but I was really having the sort of difficult time which I adore. Under Bob's close scrutiny, it was necessary to maintain my pose of wifely wife and remain unresponsive to Captain Frazier, whom I had no will to discourage. And at the same time I was endeavoring to captivate the Meredith nephew, whose quickened interest was a malicious shaft for Mrs. Calloway and Fan.

But suddenly something happened which removed me from the center of the stage.

TODAY—"The Wreck of the Grosvenor," by W. Clark Russell.
 MONDAY—"The Right of Way," by Sir Gilbert Parker.

RUSSELL

The author of "The Wreck of the Grosvenor" was born in New York, Feb. 24, 1844; he was the son of Henry Russell, author of the popular song, "Cheer, Boys, Cheer." He was educated at the famous Winchester in England, and at Boulogne in France. At thirteen he shipped on a British merchantman and served for eight years, which gave him first-hand information for the stories which have for so long been a delight to all who love a tale of the sea. His first book was "John Holdsworth, Chief Mate"; it was followed by a rapid and lengthy succession of tales of the sea in a clear and picturesque style with abundant dramatic skill. This first book won him a devoted audience, increased the next year by the story which readers will most readily associate with his name. "The Wreck of the Grosvenor"; in addition to being a good story, it pleads for better treatment of English sailors, especially in matters of food. The proper care of the sailor has always been one of the things needing attention. In addition to being a prolific writer of books, he was also a newspaper man, writing "leaders" or editorial articles for the London Daily Telegraph. These were of enough importance to be gathered together in "Round the Galley Fire" and other volumes. He died in 1911.

WM. CLARK RUSSELL, 1844-1911

THE WRECK OF THE GROSVENOR

By W. CLARK RUSSELL

Condensation by James B. Connolly

We were bound out of London with a general cargo. The wind dying out we had to come to anchor in the Downs. The crew had been grumbling about the grub; and were now grumbling yet more. I was second officer, and to me came the cook saying: "My boy, would you mind tasting this?" and handed me a bit of a ship's biscuit. "Sugar, molasses, tea and pork—if they call 'em that—they're all the same rotten mess, sir."

The biscuit was bad and though it was not my place to do so, I took it to Captain Coxon, but got nothing from him except curses and the cold advice to mind my own affairs. Mr. Duckling, the first officer, added a few obsequious remarks on his own account. The result was that the crew, getting no redress, refused to make sail on the ship, and were put ashore. Next morning a crisp came down from London with a fresh crew.

A fair wind sprang up, the ship was got under way, but we were not clear of the Channel when the new crew were also complaining of the grub. Hot words were passed between them and the captain, so hot that the captain had to take notice. He finally promised to put into some handy port, in Spain or elsewhere along the route, and lay in a fresh supply of ship's stores.

"What injustice in the meanness of owners and captains!" I thought. Here were good sailors and ordinarily harmless men who might be made into criminals and all to the end that our banking balances might be kept large and our national power supreme. Without the British sailor there would be no British Empire, and what treatment is meted out to him! He submits to hardships, danger, and receives low wages, poor food and mean living quarters; even should he be granted a hearing for a grievance, nineteen out of twenty persons appointed to investigate the trouble are qualified neither by experience nor sympathy to render a just verdict.

The Grosvenor, of which I was second officer, was a fast-sailing, full-rigged little ship of 500 tons. The captain, under owner's orders to make what time he could to Valparaiso, was out to drive her. We were rushing along under a press of canvas when we ran over a small craft of some kind. I got a glimpse, in the dark of a mast and a sail before they vanished under us.

No word came to bring her to. I asked Captain Coxon, who was on deck, if he was not going to try to save the possible survivors.

"Save be hanged! Why didn't they keep out of our way?" I knew what I wanted to say; but it is in the power of a ship's captain to injure, even to ruin, the future of an officer under him. I held my tongue.

We ran into a three days' gale. We had a terrible time, but managed to live through it. As it was moderating we sighted a wreck, a most mournful and piteous sight. It was in my watch, and I ordered the ship luffed to have a better look at her. What I saw was an arm projecting through her deck-house window. I at once called the captain and asked for instructions.

"Keep her away!" was his order. I called him a murderer, and appealed to the men. They cried to save the lives on the wreck. The captain then allowed me to take a boat's crew and see what I could do.

After a hard struggle our boat made the wreck. She was an English ship. At no little peril I ran along the deck to her house where I found a young girl and her old father. Another man was also there, alive, but insane. Seeing a panikite pumped till our arms fell to our sides but of no avail. When the water was to our main chains we took to the boats, and it was then, when we believed we were doomed to die, that Mary Robertson and I confessed our love for each other, she the daughter of a wealthy man and I a poor penniless sailor.

The sun was setting; the sky, far to the north and south, a golden color; the sea was a purple glare; the heavens a tender green and blue, and while we were gazing on all this glory, the ship went down.

That night, before the rough seas could swallow us, a steamer picked us up and took us home.

I couldn't lift much and every time I did a hard day's work the backache was awful. Sometimes I was quite dizzy and for a minute or so everything turned dark. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and found them to be helpful. They relieved the pain in my back and I felt better all over."

"CHOOSING A WIFE" Pictures Heart-Breaking Situation Forced Upon Man, Maid and a Woman.

"Choosing a Wife," the First National attraction which will be shown at the Regent Theatre, starting Sunday, answers the question of whether a young man and beautiful girl should attract a man of middle age more than a woman only a little younger than himself.

In this picture, which is filled with remarkably dramatic situations, a woman will pass the first bloom of youth, through a strange series of circumstances is led to believe that a distinguished scientist, who has left to explore a remote part of the world, has proposed to her.

In reality this man desires to marry her niece, a girl of twenty. The misunderstanding continues during the scientist's absence and when he returns he is stunned to find that for many months the woman of forty has been preparing to marry him, as he had written to her she should.

He goes to her to talk it over. Their conversation by no means ends the picture which goes on to a logical conclusion.

FROCKS FOR FALL CAPTIVATING IN EXPRESSION OF "SOMETHING DIFFERENT."

The Smartest of Style Plus the Maximum of Simplicity Equals the Prettiest Model—Harmonious Effects Never So Dependent upon Careful Attention to Detail—

Capucine Colorings and Prohibition Shades in Interesting Race for Favor—Attractive Combinations Introduced in Exclusive Autumn Millinery—

Well-Dressed Women Cling to Loose, Long Lines, But Accept Modifications—Highly Engaging Are the Newest Wraps for Children.

By MAUDE HALL.
If well-dressed women follow the order of the day and go on strike, it will be for the continuance of the long loose lines which have been associated with the fashions of the past few seasons, especially the one-piece frock. As the season advances, however, one sees designs for day dresses which concede greater width at the sides of the skirt. Devotees of the straightline models declare that there is nothing in the newer fashions to which the old ones may not be adapted, and no doubt they are right.

Typical of the widened skirt is a dress in dark brown tricot. The waist is very long and features the narrow belt which is being emphasized so extensively for Autumn. Velvet buttons in double rows trim the front of the blouse, the U-shaped neck being filled in with a vest of ecru georgette. The skirt is handsomely trimmed with braid and put on in the form of a deep sounce, the upper edges being left unstitched to form pockets or give the extended effect so much discussed. Deep cuffs and a square collar of braided tricot complete the details of the dress.

All of the cabled reports from Paris tell of novel trimmings. No doubt there has never been a season when harmonious effects have been so dependent upon careful attention to details as now. Braid and embroidery are in great demand for day frocks. Wide bands are formed of braid set close together or applied in definite design on many of the founced effects. Wool or chenille in relief, simulating carpet embroidery, is also exceedingly smart, being employed in the decoration of sheer materials as well as the serges, tricotines, satins, etc. For evening toilettes the trimmings include ostrich interlaced with silk floss. Sports models feature leather bandings and cellaphane embroideries and bands of patent leather in which fanciful designs are perforated.

New colorings are very interesting. The capucine shades, sponsored by Paris, are certainly very pretty, while as much can be as enthusiastically said of the prohibition tones. The capucines include the bright orange shades, particularly becoming to youthful figures. They are employed in millinery as generously as in the development of dresses, separate blouses, etc. In combination with black and brown they make very beautiful hats.

The prohibition tones lead off with grape, which needs no description; lemonade, which is almost chartreuse; ginger ale, a charming shade of burnt orange; bevo, a rich dark brown; mint, an attractive soft green and loganberry, which is applied to some of the new dark reds.

Loganberry is very effective with black and self-color braids. It appears to advantage in a one-piece dress of tricotine having a long blouse with a deep tunic. The tunic is gathered at the sides and has an open front. Turning back from a long, braid-stitched vest are revers of self-material with soutache braid finishing the edges. The sleeves are trimmed with turn-back cuffs, also trimmed with soutache.

Two Attractive Frocks for Girls and Juniors Designed for Both Dressy and Practical Wear.

At this season of the year youthful fashions are always of interest because of the approaching school days. The dresses illustrated in spite of the founces there are comparatively few seams in the design. All of the founce sections are laid along the lengthwise fold of material, which makes them seamless. The same is true of the front of the lining instead of the dress material. The back of the waist and the sleeves are laid on the goods so that the large "O" perforations rest on a lengthwise thread.

After cutting the various parts of the skirt and waist, these should be notched and perforated as indicated on the tissues. To make, first close the underarm and shoulder seams of the waist as notched. Hem the back, gather lower edge between "T" perforations and sew waistband to lower edge of waist with center-fronts and back edges even. Next, take the sleeves and sew seam as notched. Sew in armholes, holding the sleeve toward here are very desirable because they are appropriate for any occasion. The first model may be developed in chamois, cotton voile or any soft material. It is a plain gathered skirt attached to a waist with a draped front. French knots arranged in clusters to form a design trim the waist. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards material 36 inches wide.

The little model to the right is intensely practical, for, if desired, the founces may be omitted, leaving a simple skirt and waist of strikingly smart appearance. The founces, round neck and flare sleeves are hemstitched, this being the only trimming on the dress, except the string belt of gros grain ribbon. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch material, with 1 1/2 yard 36-inch lining for the gorges. The cutting and construction guides show how the dress may be made.

you when basting it in the armhole. For the skirt, slash through the folds at center-backs of the upper and the center founce's sections J and O from upper edges to large "O" perforations and finish the edges above the perforations for closing. Join founce sections as notched. Turn hems at lower edges on small "o" perforations. Gather upper edges between "T" perforations. Adjust the two lower founces to position on skirt, stitching upper edges along crosslines of small "o" perforations with center-fronts, center-backs and side seams even. Adjust upper founce on skirt with center-fronts, side seams and back edges even and baste upper edges together. Sew skirt to lower edge of waist.

CLAIMS EX-KAISER
WAS JUNKER TOOLCzernin, Former Austrian
Foreign Minister, Writes
Book on War

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—The Kaiser was a "prisoner of his generals." He was often uncertain and vacillating in his war aims. The German crown prince became an avowed pacifist in 1917. Czar Nicholas put out a peace feeler in February, 1917, a few days before the outbreak of the Russian revolution.

These are some of the outstanding assertions made by Count Otto von Czernin, former Austrian foreign minister, in his memoirs, entitled "The World-War."

The book will come off the press within the next few days according to dispatches from Vienna.

Count Czernin's book has been looked forward to by public and official circles with greater interest than any other contribution to the inner history of the world war. It was expected Czernin would write with considerable frankness and it appears his memoirs are not disappointing.

The book contains twelve chapters each dealing with a particular phase of the great conflict. Discussing the situation which led up to the war, Czernin declares England and France did not want war in 1914. He characterizes the late Herr von Tschirsky, who was German ambassador at Vienna as the "German Iswolski," and writes sharply on the role played by him.

(Note: Iswolski was the Russian ambassador to England and has been charged by German officials with plotting the alleged "isolation" of Germany which they assert led to the war. He died recently.)

Count Czernin declares Bismarck's heritage was a curse for Germany, and in his opinion the invasion of Belgium spelled disaster for the Germans.

Archduke Ferdinand, whose murder was the spark that set the world aflame, is described in the book as having been possessed with a fanatical antipathy to everything Hungarian, but on the whole not unfriendly toward Siberia.

Czernin disputes the idea that Ferdinand's murder was seized upon by Germany and Russia as a wall against revolution.

The count, who was Austrian minister at Bucharest at the time of Roumania's entrance into the war, charges Queen Marie of Roumania was the soul of Roumania's war policy and that Premier Bratianu never had been truly neutral.

One of the most interesting chapters of the book is that in which Czernin tells of his efforts to make peace in 1917, which failed, he says, largely because the German chancellor, Dr. Michaelis and the German high command made impossible demands, including military control of Belgium and certain concessions on the Flanders coast.

Belts and Double Breasted Coats, But Prices? "Staying Up!"

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Belts and double-breasted will be the impending styles in men's clothing, according to many of the 500 members of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, holding their sixth annual convention here.

But little hope is held out for a decrease in prices, although clothiers are considering ways and means for reducing the high costs of everything.

"We can never go back to pre-war prices," Secretary Charles E. Wry, of Des Moines, Ia., said.

One member stated labor alone on a coat made in New York is now about $9, whereas a few years ago it was $3.50. In the same time cloth which was worth $1.50 a yard has jumped to about $3.50.

Double Holiday Weakens us all For Active Work

Did you heave a sigh of regret the Saturday following Labor Day when you weren't starting on a two day holiday like the Saturday previous? Well, if you didn't, there were many Limalites that did, but a few of those that are in the same class with yourself are the factory heads, for altho they sighed, it was relief and not regret. Because to them a two day holiday means not only the loss of Monday's production, but also an exceptionally large loss on Tuesday.

After two days off, it seems all the harder to swing back into the harness. It is quite a well known fact that Monday, especially at the factories, is always a hard day. Production is very much smaller on that day than on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, while Friday is proclaimed the best day of the week, because the employees have gotten their stride, and are up to the best degree of efficiency.

Saturday is pay day, and well, they are again looking forward to Sunday again, planning their pleasure or recreation, and the mind is apt to stray frequently from the work at hand. So it is only logical that when they have two days off from the regular routine their muscles and minds have laxed doubly long, and it is just twice as hard to get back into the swing of work.

Dr. Walter C. Corns, Internal medicine, 209 West North street, over the Drs. Steuber offices. Hours 9 to 12, 1 to 4.

IMPERIAL CASTLES
ROBBED DURING
GERMAN REVOLUTION

BERLIN, Sept. 13.—Thefts from the castles of former Emperor William and the Crown Prince Frederick, not only during the Revolution but during the January and March riots of the Spartacists and Communists, are still engaging the attention of the police.

Slowly the authorities have been able to trace some of the valuables that were filched by the sailors who occupied the ex-emperor's palace and that of his son for a time but an immense amount has been taken from Berlin by underground methods and may never be recovered.

One of the most important "finds" can be laid to a Hamburg professor. A marine had stolen two Cranach portraits from the imperial castle, failed to get rid of them in Berlin and finally sold them to a questionable dealer in Hamburg. The dealer approached the professor, who recognized the canvases, gave a check but stopped payment, and notified the Finance Ministry. The paintings were thereupon confiscated.

There are many more not yet recovered, however, including a little male figure in wood dating from 1585, a Katharina Von Bora by an unknown artist, also of wood, a "warrior with ladies" by Palamedes, and a score of other carvings and paintings, principally by German artists, from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

From the palace of Wilhelm I. there have been stolen figures in bronze and ivory, a pastel of Queen Louise, vases, letters, containers, silver trays, Japanese silk portieres and curtains, decorative weapons, medals, watches and mirrors.

The Crown Prince's residence suffered similarly. Cigarette cases, of which the crown prince had a wonderful collection, are missing, a jeweled collar, writing material, woolen material, clocks, a watch set with diamonds and sapphires, two automobiles, five hunting guns and a gold revolver.

BRITISH MAINTAIN
ARMY OF 1,000,000

LONDON.—There are 675,000 British soldiers scattered abroad upholding the prestige of the British empire.

Nearly two-thirds of this force is retained to enforce the fulfillment by Germany of the peace treaty. This huge army does not include British soldiers in Ireland or other portions of the British Isles numbering over 300,000; hence the British army totals about 1,000,000 men.

In the British army of occupation along the Rhine are 206,000 soldiers, while in France and Flanders, forming the communication services and clearing up the battle fields are 211,000 men, who would act as a reserve for the Rhine army in case of need.

In Italy there are about 11,000 troops, most of them engaged in "clearing up" work. One battalion forms the British portion of the international garrison at Fiume.

In the Black sea area there are 44,000 troops, about a division being in the region of Constantinople and 22,000 in the Caucasus, where highly valuable oil fields are being guarded.

In Egypt and Palestine there are 96,000 British soldiers. As is well known, a large garrison is being kept in Egypt to prevent revolution and Turko-German plots coming to a head. Asia Minor is very unsettled; there's trouble between the Kurds and Armenians, which with the dissatisfaction of the Turks, makes it necessary for a considerable force to be kept in Palestine, for which Great Britain has the mandate.

In Mesopotamia there are 21,000 British garrison troops. The Kurds there have been stirring up trouble. Central Arabia also is inclined to be wartlike, mostly of tribal kind between sects.

In India where there are a million natives trained to arms, but who have been demobilized, the British garrison numbers 62,000. Unrest in India itself, together with punitive expeditions now and then by the Afghans, makes this force essential to continuance of British rule.

In Siberia where international troops are guarding the Trans-Siberian railroad from the Bolsheviks, there are 5,000 British troops. In addition there is a military mission, designed to aid Admiral Kolchak, with headquarters at Vladivostok.

In North Russia, where the British policy is to hold the Bolsheviks in check while Russians are being trained and equipped so they can "carry on," there are some 15,000 British troops, most of which are near Archangel. The British forces are gradually being brought home.

In addition, there are 6,000 British troops in defended ports of the British empire abroad. These ports include Gibraltar, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bermuda and Malta.

"KISS ME AGAIN" A HIT

That Frederick V. Bowers has firmly established himself as a prime favorite in Lima was indicated by the big audience that assembled at the Faurot this afternoon to see the celebrated comedian in his new musical comedy, "Kiss Me Again." Many happily remembered the big hit scored by Mr. Bowers on his last visit here and were prepared for something equally as good. They were gratified in every way for "Kiss Me Again" is one of the cleverest and most tuneful musical plays that has ever graced the stage of the will be shown at the Faurot, next Sunday and Monday.

He has chosen three characters, typical and definite in the domestic life of America, familiar to the residents in every small place and most large ones. One is that of a lovable, loyal girl, who never has a chance to marry but one man, and when that man passes her by, loses her soul with tears, and wears her days with weeping.

Another is a young man who goes to college, returns with comical conceits, the premier of swains, as regards to himself as the moose. And the third is a girl who con-

which absorbs the full power of her acting. Robert Harron, as the boy who becomes a minister, will remind the world of some it knows, and give to it a chuckle never forgotten. Clarence Seymour is introduced as a merry young milliner from Chicago.

Added features of the program include the Pathe News, Ray Cartoons, Paramount Pictographs and the Screen Monologue.

One of the largest sets ever built in a motion picture studio is that of the Palm Garden cabaret in Elsie Ferguson's latest Arteratt picture "Eyes of the Soul," which will be shown at the Faurot next Tuesday and Wednesday. It is a full sized cabaret, a flight of steps leading up to the stage from the restaurant floor and a length of restaurant which takes in perhaps twenty-five tables within the camera's range.

The story deals with a little cabaret dancer who is loved by an elderly man, a judge and a member of one of the South's best families. He is first attracted to her by her beauty and grace, and after making her acquaintance, he realizes that not only is she possessed of a curious code of ter reading it, well—things begin to look different in her life, and it wouldn't be fair to tell the story. The picture is based upon George Weston's story, "The Salt of the Earth," which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

It will be accompanied at the Faurot by a fresh edition of the Pathe News and Mack Sennett's new comedy "Hearts and Flowers."

Perhaps never has any modern photoplay presented such an array of feminine talent and beauty as is offered in "A Very Good Young Man." Bryant Washburn's new Paramount picture, which will be shown at the Faurot next Thursday and Friday.

Four leading women play important roles in the production. They are Helene Chadwick, Helen Jerome Eddy, Julia Faye and Anna Q. Nilsson. Each has played leading roles in leading screen successes and all are popular with picture patrons, due to their splendid artistry. Helen Chadwick plays the leading role in this picture, and the Misses Eddy, Faye and Nilsson have equally important parts. Other members in the cast are: Wade Boteler, Sylvia Ash-

THE FAUROT'S PICTURES

Into the rural village for the setting, and into a woman's soul for the theme, David Wark Griffith has gone for the materials of his new Arteratt picture "True Heart Susie," which

siders marriage never a union of hearts but a necessary patronage, a wife of subsidy rather than of love.

With these notions, Mr. Griffith has arranged a story of wondrous charm, poignant in the delightful subtleties of character delineation, a woman, who alone story of love, won and love denied. He devotes his deep perception of the infinite varieties of each heart, to these three young persons, each whetted by nature to realize the fullness of life's experiences, yet each held from doing just what he or she should.

Lillian Gish appears as the girl who who waits, a repressed role her own by which she lives, but she has many excellent qualities.

Miss Ferguson portrays the stellar part, wearing a costume resembling that of a pigeon. A dancing instructor was engaged to give Miss Ferguson a few lessons in a bird dance and walk, which she does admirably. She is accompanied by twenty girls, all chosen for their grace and beauty from Broadway shows.

When the carrier pigeon makes her way slowly down the steps from the cabaret stage in time with the music, the judge ties a note on her wrist. The pigeon takes the note back to the dressing room, and af-anese star relies upon his ability to portray emotion by quiet and restrained methods, which combined with extraordinary power of facial expression never fail to register strongly on the screen. The imaginative powers of this great actor were never better unfolded than in the tense scene where he is shown painting the portrait of the man he has killed — the man who had dishonored his sister — and whose features seemed to leer at him from the canvas. In a mad rage he shatters the portrait to shreds. When confronted by the woman he loves, and he realizes that he must sacrifice his own life or else disgrace her by revealing the truth, he makes the supreme sacrifice.

Another big dramatic episode is a thrilling fight on the brink of a chasm, where Yano succeeds in throwing his adversary over the cliff after a desperate struggle.

ST. MARYS

AGED MAN LOSES A
LEG AND HIS MIND

ST. MARYS, Sept. 13.—Amputation of one of his legs and the subsequent unbalancing of his mind is the double affliction suffered by Fred Claus, 78, of Kossuth, father of Chris Claus, of St. Marys. Following an insanity inquest, the mature patient was yesterday taken by Sheriff Ora Hinton in his automobile to the state hospital at Toledo. Mr. Claus at first refused to allow himself to be dressed when officers yesterday called at his residence to take him to the county courthouse. He changed his mind on this subject when they offered to take him back to Germany. He is a native of Germany, whence he emigrated 30 years ago to America.

The sheep-killing dog continues his rounds in the southern part of St. Marys township. A sheep belonging to George H. Wagner, director in the Huenke school district, was killed one night this week. Wilbur Kuennig reports four of his geese killed, probably by the same dog. Efforts to get the dog have thus far been unsuccessful.

No word has been received as to the date when the provisions and canned goods ordered by various local citizens through the post office will be delivered. Some of the buyers are getting anxious, but all they can do is to bide their time till Uncle Sam gets ready to ship the goods in, at which time it will be publicly announced.

The orders sent in from St. Marys aggregate a little better than $900 which is considered a large order for this community.

HOSPITAL MEET CLOSES.
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 13.—The American Hospital Association closed its twenty-first annual convention in Cincinnati yesterday. Dr. Joseph H. Howland, assistant administrator, Massachusetts General Hospital, was elected president of the association. Rev. Maurice F. Griffin, St. Elizabeth Hospital, Youngstown, Ohio, was elected a vice president. Next year's convention will go to Montreal.

BURGLARS COME AGAIN.
For the second time in as many weeks, the office of the Consumers' Coal Company was broken into last night. A typewriter was the only thing stolen. The first time the place was entered, nothing was taken, according to the police.

WAPAKONETA

CHILD BADLY HURT
BY A CORN CUTTER

WAPAKONETA, Sept. 13.—John Edward, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vaubel, was injured Thursday afternoon when he received deep cuts in the back of each of his feet by the blade of a corn cutter.

The accident occurred on the Harvey Chiles farm, west of town, on which Mr. Vaubel was doing some work. The little lad was riding with his father on the corn cutter, on a little pleasure jaunt, and was placed on the machine in such a manner that after the guard on the blade had been drawn back by the cutter being dragged through the weeds, his feet came in contact with the razor-like edge, inflicting deep cuts in the tendons of each foot.

Mrs. Anna Cottrell received a letter from a friend in Bellefontaine, Friday morning, in which she was informed that an aeroplane had visited the Park farm and had been taking people up, charging them at the rate of $15 for a half-hour ride. The aeroplane and driver expected to return in the near future, to afford others an opportunity of going up.

A theory held by persons hereabouts that the death rate in the section of the country has been unusually light during the months of this summer is somewhat disproven by figures submitted by Mayor Fred A. Klipfel, registrar for state district No. 77, for the recording of vital statistics.

The figures indicate that in this district, which includes Moulton, Duchouquet and Pasheta townships and Wapakoneta, in the three month period beginning on June 1, of this year and continuing until the present time, there were 31 deaths. In the same period in 1918 the deaths numbered 14.

Newly Dyed Shoes
Should Not Be Worn Too Soon

As this is the time of the year when many persons are having their shoes dyed or colored for winter wear Dr. Burton, health officer, warns against wearing the shoes when they come from the cleaners, until they are thoroughly dry. Aniline poisoning, which is used in dyeing shoes, is often absorbed through the wearing into the feet and thru circulation passes thru the entire body.

Several violent cases of aniline poisoning resulting from wearing shoes not completely dried have been reported to the state health authorities, but so far none have occurred in Lima.

Alliance Red Cross canteen workers served an elaborate dinner on Mt. Union College Athletic field. Preparations were made for 1200 men.

VAN WERT

YOUTH KILLED AS
HORSES FRIGHTEN

VAN WERT, Sept. 13.—Harold Reed, aged about seventeen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Reed, of Ridge township, was instantly killed, in an accident at the plant of the Stoops' Packing Co. The young man brought a load of sweet corn from the Reed farm, on the Ridge road, just east of the county infirmary, using a large wagon, drawn by a team of horses. He drove into the runway, at the southside of the factory buildings, and onto the dump where the wheels of the wagon were blocked preparatory to unloading the corn. Young Reed placed the reins on the back of one horse and moment later a train passed on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad and the signal bells began to clang, at the Race street crossing. The noise of the train and the bells frightened the horses and they began to prance. Young Reed grabbed the reins, and the horses lunged forward in the sudden movement his body was caught between the front end of the wagon box and a telephone pole, at the side of the driveway and he was so badly crushed live was extinct when eye witnesses reached his side. His neck was broken.

Mrs. Hiram Shurtliff of north Vine street, had a narrow escape from death last evening when she allowed the valve on the gas range to remain open accidentally and went to bed, not knowing that the gas was escaping. This morning her condition was somewhat improved, but it is very serious.

DELPHOS

FT. WAYNE PLANT TO MOVE TO DELPHOS

DELPHOS, Sept. 13.—The Fort Wayne plant of the American Road Machinery company will be moved to Delphos. This information is conveyed in a letter which will be placed before the Community club.

The letter is written by E. E. Berry, general superintendent of the company, and is in reply to one written by L. C. Laudick, secretary of the Community club, informing the company of the results of the canvass conducted in this city to raise funds for the proposition.

If you don't want Fido to fall into the hands of the dog catcher, you'd better get a license tag at once and then keep it at home. Two dogs found their way to dog heaven Thursday and more will follow unless the above caution is observed, according to Allen County Deputy Sheriff W. T. Taylor, who visited Delphos Thursday.

Mr. Taylor had come to Delphos from his home near Spencerville on a business mission. While in the city he learned of an attack made by a dog upon Miss Cecilia Helmkamp, a daughter of Theodore Helmkamp.

Mr. Taylor, accompanied by Mr. Helmkamp, made a trip to the Kriest farm where the animal was located and killed. Another dog, which was found by Mr. Taylor on the streets was taken to his home where it was also dispatched.

WHITE SOX ARE PLACING HOPE IN EDDIE CICOTTE

Shine Ball Artist is the One Best Bet Gleason Has in World Series, is the Opinion of Scout
Gene McCann

(BY JAMES F. BURBA)

There's a "burble" lot of loose
dope floating around about the coming World Series, which will without a doubt, be played between the Reds and White Sox, and fans are loud in their claudations or knocks.
Each tells what his beloved gang of ball tossers are going to do to your beloved outfit when they meet. Yea bo, they are loud in their prognos-tics, but they don't tell how.

Well, we are in the same fix, and the backers of the Reds, really, all things considered, are better able to tell how than those who back the Sox. Yet, you know, a wise old bimbo once said: "You can never tell anything about a woman or a race horse," or words to that effect. We are going him one better, and add a "ball game."

The Reds have, to our thinking,
the best staff of moundmen. There are Eller, Reuther, Ring, Sallee, Fisher and Luque. You know, that's a pretty good hand to hold, and we have stood pat on five worse ones than that. The only thing is, the Reds will have to step just a little harder on their batting, and we believe they can do that against the Sox twirlers.

Cicotte is Main Stay
It's a settled fact that the best bet
Kid Gleason has is the noted shine ball artist, Eddie Cicotte. To him
we doff our chapeau, but Eddie certainly can't pitch the entire nine games, and he will be traveling some if he works four contests of the series. Their next best bet is Williams, the able forkhand. Backing these two up, the kid has Urban Faber, who is worthy of consideration,
and in our estimation is as good as Lefty Williams, Bill James, Dick
Kerr and Erskine Mayer.

They all win a game once in a while, but probably the most effective twirler Gleason has among the last named is Kerr. This lad has been going pretty good in the last few weeks.

REDS BETTER FIELDING TEAM THAN WHITE SOX

Gleason's Men, However, Have the Hardest Hitting Aggregation of the Two

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The Chicago
White Sox, leaders of the American league, top the Cincinnati Reds, National league pace makers, in club
batting, but the Reds have a shade
the best of it in club fielding, according to averages released today
and which include games of last Wednesday.

The White Sox, in 124 games have batted for an average of .283 while the Reds, in 127 games have a batting mark of .264. In club fielding, the Reds' mark is .978, while that of the White Sox is .969.

Four members of the White Sox,
who have played in twenty or more games are hitting more than .300,
and are lead by Eddie Murphy, star pitcher, who, in 24 games has hung up a mark of .478. Joe Jackson, the slugging outfielder, is hitting .352. Eddie Collins has a mark of .316 and Chick Gandil is batting .302. Eddie Collins has a mark leading his mates with an average of
.319, Heinie Groh, is the runner-up to Roush with an average of .311,
and "Hod" Eller, a pitcher is batting .301.

Leading batters on the clubs, with
the number of games follow:

Cincinnati	Games	Pct.
Roush	122	.319
Groh	119	.311
Eller	86	.301
Fisher	23	.296
Daubert	22	.279
Wingo	127	.273
Kopf	124	.261
Reuther	36	.259
Neale	127	.247

McCann Talks

That the shine ball artist is the hope of the White Sox management
there is not a doubt, and this much may be gathered from Gene Mc-Cann, Red scout, who during his last tour saw the Sox perform quite a few times.

"The coming world series rests
its whole weight on the shoulders of Cicotte, the White Sox shine-ball pitcher," said Gene McCann.

"Cicotte will go in for the first game against the Reds: if he wins,
the Sox, a great ball club, and full of nerve, must be given an even chance against us. But if the Reds thrash Cicotte in that opening contest, the stuff is off—the Reds can be set down as as future champions
Dope, No Good

Continuing, the Reds' scout said:
"You can't go by dope. All season form may not count a little bit in a short series. Shaik is the star of all catchers over the long route—yet he may be smothered by Wingo and Raiden in a short struggle. On the dope, Joe Jackson figures to batter
the Red pitching all over the lot—so the Chicago fans all think—and yet a lot of them admit that Jackson has slowed up on foot, that he can no longer travel rapidly on bases, and that young Duncan will outclass him when it comes to going after fly balls. Neale won't have much trouble when it comes to a comparison with Leibold and Roush outclasses Felsch.

"Where the Chicago people think the series is already in—and where they are due for an awful awakening—is around second base. They all imagine that the territory at short and second will be better guarded for their club than for the Reds—and there is where they will get the shock of their lives. I don't think there is a better pair in the game today than Rath and Kopf—
and Chicago will admit it after the series is over. But, when it comes down to cases, it's all up to Cicotte
and the first game."

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Barber,
Chicago, and Hornsby, St. Louis, joined the 300 batters in the National league during the past week,
according to the averages released
today which include games of last Wednesday. Barber boosted his mark from .298 to .309 while Hornsby went from .295 to .302. Doyle and Young, New York, dropped below the .300 mark.

Cravath, Philadelphia, dropped four points, but continues to top the batters who have participated in fifty or more games. His average is .336, which is twelve points better than Thorpe, Boston, the runner-up. Cravath's eleven homers continue to be high in this department,
with Kauff, New York, the runner-up with ten.

Roush, Cincinnati, has passed the
double century mark to total bases
with a figure of 205, acquired on 149 hits, which include twenty-doubles, twelve triples and four homers.
He also is tied with Carey, Pittsburgh, for third place in batting
with .319.

Cutshaw, Pittsburgh, added three
stolen bases to his erring and is showing the way on the paths with 34.

Groh, Cincinnati, is out in front
as leading run-maker, having registered 77 times, Burns, New York, is
the runner-up with 76.

Other leading National league bat-
ters are: Neussel, Philadelphia, .312;
Groh, Cincinnati, .311; Barber, Chicago, .309; Hornsby, St. Louis, .302;
Myers, Brooklyn, .300; Doyle, New York, .299; Stock, St. Louis, .298;
Deal, Chicago, .296; Burns, New York, .294.

Ty Cobb, Detroit star, is giving
promise of becoming the leading base
stealer of the American league in addition to being the king of the bat-
ters.

Cobb has tied Hooper, Boston,
for second place among the base
stealers with 26, and is threatening
to overtake Sisler, St. Louis, who is topping the base stealers with 27.

He is leading the hitters with an average of .383, which is a gain of twelve points over last week. Jackson, Chicago, also is advancing in
the list and has passed Veach, Detroit. Jackson is the runner-up to Cobb with an average of .352.
Veach's average is .349.

Fewsterm, New York, suffered a
batting slump during the week which
dropped him out of the "select set."
He went from seventh place with a
mark of .325 down to twenty-fourth
place with a mark of .295.

"Babe" Ruth, Boston, the new
King of home run hitters, in addition to setting a new mark for home
runs by knocking out his 26th circuit drive, is the leading run maker
with 92 markers to his credit. His 126 hits which have given him a total base mark of 256 bases, include,
besides his home run mark, twenty-
eight doubles and twelve triples.

Other leading American league
batters who have participated in 50
or more games are: Sisler, St. Louis,
.346; Peckinpaugh, New York, .331;
Jacobson, St. Louis, .331; Hellman,
Detroit, .328; Tobin, St. Louis, .326;

Roush, Cincinnati, has passed the
double century mark to total bases
with a figure of 205, acquired on 149 hits, which include twenty-dou-
bles, twelve triples and four homers.
He also is tied with Carey, Pittsburgh, for third place in batting
with .319.

Cutshaw, Pittsburgh, added three
stolen bases to his erring and is showing the way on the paths with 34.

Groh, Cincinnati, is out in front
as leading run-maker, having registered 77 times, Burns, New York, is
the runner-up with 76.

Other leading National league bat-
ters are: Neussel, Philadelphia, .312;
Groh, Cincinnati, .311; Barber, Chi-
cago, .309; Hornsby, St. Louis, .302;
Myers, Brooklyn, .300; Doyle, New York, .299; Stock, St. Louis, .298;
Deal, Chicago, .296; Burns, New York, .294.

Ty Cobb, Detroit star, is giving
promise of becoming the leading base
stealer of the American league in
addition to being the king of the bat-
ters.

Cobb has tied Hooper, Boston,
for second place among the base
stealers with 26, and is threatening
to overtake Sisler, St. Louis, who is topping the base stealers with 27.

He is leading the hitters with an average of .383, which is a gain of
twelve points over last week. Jackson, Chicago, also is advancing in
the list and has passed Veach, Detroit. Jackson is the runner-up to Cobb with an average of .352.
Veach's average is .349.

Fewsterm, New York, suffered a
batting slump during the week which
dropped him out of the "select set."
He went from seventh place with a
mark of .325 down to twenty-fourth
place with a mark of .295.

"Babe" Ruth, Boston, the new
King of home run hitters, in addition to setting a new mark for home
runs by knocking out his 26th circuit drive, is the leading run maker
with 92 markers to his credit. His 126 hits which have given him a total base mark of 256 bases, include,
besides his home run mark, twenty-
eight doubles and twelve triples.

Other leading American league
batters who have participated in 50
or more games are: Sisler, St. Louis,
.346; Peckinpaugh, New York, .331;
Jacobson, St. Louis, .331; Hellman,
Detroit, .328; Tobin, St. Louis, .326;

REDS CUT LOOSE IN NINTH; SCORE THREE

Same Old Story; That Ninth Inning Rally and Redlegs Beat Braves

By a strong batting rally in the ninth, the Reds nosed out the Braves 6 to 3 yesterday. Eller was hit hard in the third inning when Boston scored four runs. After three hits had filled the bases with one out in the eighth, Fisher relieved Elen and forced in a run by walking the next batter, and then settled down and struck out the side in the ninth inning.

The Reds scored in the first on Rath's triple and Daubert's out at first. They got two more in the fourth on Kopf's single, Duncan's double and a hit by Raiden.

The batting of Duncan for the Reds and Rawlings for Boston was effective. Both teams fielded well, every run on each side being earned.

Bolen is Now
With O. N. W.

Charles W. "Shifty" Bolen, Lima
football star has arrived in Ada
where he will endeavor to whip
promising talent into a football aggregation worthy of note. If there is any material in the gang Bolen is pretty sure to bring it out, for he is a player of the old school and knows
the game from soup to nuts.

Indications are Ohio Northern will have the best aggregation of gridiron performers this season that they have claimed for some years past.

'NIG' CLARK WILL BRING HIS PAULDING GANG HERE

Former Milwaukee Leader is Leading a Bunch Which Has Not Been Defeated This Season—Sykes
Will Play With Locals

(BY JAMES F. BURBA)

To be perfectly fair with you, we would rather endeavor to pick the winner of the coming world's series than we would select the victor of a Sunday ball game in Lima. Not because picking the winner of the series is an proposition, by any means, but because we have only the outings of some bimbo, relative to visiting aggregations.

However, if the contest to be played here tomorrow between Harry Clark's Paulding outfit, and the locals isn't just about the most tortured contest that has been staged here this season, we are going to quit endeavoring to tell the fans all about the Sabbath games.

Personally, we know Harry "Nig"
Clark has been a ball player with a reputation worthy of consideration.
He is a veteran player whom unkind fate has exiled for years to a minor role in obscure leagues. He endeavored to bolster up the Milwaukee, American Association team,
but that team was beyond the powers
of McGraw, Moran, Connie Mack or any other pilot.

We think we are "hop" enough

to say, Clark will not bring an aggregation here which is not worthy
of staging a game. You know, there are very few real ball players who
will cluster a gang of hams around
themselves, and for that reason we firmly believe Nig will bring a good
team to Lima tomorrow.

Another reason, Clark knows what kind of an aggregation Lima has,
and it's not likely he will bring a bunch of horseshoe fingers or old
soldiers to buck 'em. Nig, himself,
will perform at the third bill, a position he has played, lo, these many years. We have seen him perform, and he is one member of the Paulding outfit that will stage a battle against the locals. This much, we can assure you.

Lima is going to be strengthened to the extent of a certain Mr. Earle Sykes, better known throughout the baseball circles as Bill Sykes. He needs no introduction to local fans,
who all this season have longed for his return.

Sykes has been playing first base
for the Bloomington, Three Eye League, this season, and has won himself a home in that city. The long, initial sacker has been going good this year, both in his fielding and hitting. Sykes will remain the rest of the season with Lima.

Tomorrow's contest will be staged at 3 o'clock as usual, and if it is not a real contest, then we will certainly have to apologize to the fans for touting them wrong. If we have to do this, we are going to write barnyard golf, chess or something equally exciting in this column
in the future. Get us?

ADAMS ENTRY
WINS EVENT

Yesterday was get-away day at the local fair, but notwithstanding that, the classiest events of the three days were staged. Both the 2:18 trot and the 2:11 pace went to straight heat winners. The former going to Shinney, The Tin Poddler, and Prince
A captured the latter.

Henry Adams, Richwood, Ohio
driver, piloted Shinney, The Tin Poddler, and there was never any stage of the race when the gelding
was in any danger. St. Patrick,
The Great, a Hooker entry, driven by Al Clark was runner-up in the first two heats. He made a mistake in the last heat, and finished fourth.

In the 2:11 pace, Prince A, a Bartlett and Walker entry, piloted by Goggin, simply outclassed the field. May Fern, driven by "Doc" Vail was the closest contender, but there was never any serious danger
for the winner. May Fern finished second in the first heat. She broke in the get away in the second heat,
and Vail laid her away.

The little mare was up and doing in the third heat of the event. She got away good, and for the first five eighths had the remainder of the field trailing. However, on the back stretch, Prince A was ahead, and as the three-quarter pole was passed stepped into the lead, and finished a half-length ahead of the St. Vi-tory entry.

A newspaper comments upon the great number of women who stood in line yesterday to secure tickets for the series. What's wrong? They are only human, no matter how they act at times.

Harry Clark and his gang of Paulding tossers will perform on the local lot tomorrow.

They should let the man who named the winner of yesterday's 2:18
trot at the driving park name just one more horse, and then force him
to change his name to Archibald or Percival.

Yes, and maybe Oswald.

to say, Clark will not bring an ag-
gregation here which is not worthy
of staging a game. You know, there
are very few real ball players who
will cluster a gang of hams around
themselves, and for that reason we
firmly believe Nig will bring a good
team to Lima tomorrow.

Another reason, Clark knows what

bunch of horseshoe fingers or old
soldiers to buck 'em. Nig, himself,

SIXTEEN THE TIMES-DEMOCRAT, LIMA, OHIO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1919

PHONE CHARGES ARE TURNED DOWN

INSTALLATION FEE ORDERED STOPPED BY P. U. COMMISSION

Linemen of Lima Company Affected By the Ruling of Saturday

MAKE SOME CHANGES

Removal of Telephones May be Charged For at a Reduced Rate

An Associated Press dispatch from Columbus Saturday states that the public utilities commission has handed down a decision that the service charge for the installation of telephones, instituted by Postmaster General Burtleson, is "unjust and unreasonable, and that it can no longer be charged in Ohio."

The decision peculiarly affects the Lima Telephone and Telegraph Company, because of the fact that the recent strike of the linemen of the company was settled by the granting at once of an increase of 2 1/2 cents an hour, with an additional increase of 2 1/2 cents if the utilities commission allowed the retention of the installation service charge.

Refuse to Talk.

Officials of the company today refused to talk, except that one stated that he was indeed sorry that the commission had so ruled, because he felt that the charge was just. He said that the trouble came with the installation of telephones in the residences of transients, who left, either without paying their bill or remaining only a short time, making the work of installing the telephone lines and instruments a heavy charge against a small return.

It is believed that the failure of the linemen to get the 2 1/2 cents an hour will not cause another strike, since the agreement made between the company and the men left the further increase fully up to the decision of the state commission.

Charges Retained.

Some of the charges instituted by Postmaster General Burtleson, while in charge of the wires, have been retained.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 13.—The Ohio public utilities commission in a decision handed down today ordered telephone companies operating in Ohio to discontinue after October 1, the $7.50 service connection charge authorized by Postmaster General Burtleson while the wires were under federal control.

Says It's Unjust

The commission holds that the existing charge of $7.50 or any amount for an original installation is "unjust and unreasonable," for the reason that such installation adds the capital account of the company, while transients from one location to another charged to operating expenses and expenses which are created by the subscribers. The commission held that the companies may receive a pre-payment for three months service in advance in order to protect itself against subscribers who require telephone service for only a few days or a few weeks and it "sees no reason" why a higher short term rate may not be made to cover additional cost for short term subscribers.

Charges Modified

The order also modifies other charges instituted under the Burtleson regime. The Burtleson schedule

J. G. MACKENZIE

ules under which the companies are now operating allows a charge of $1.50 for transfer of a phone from one person to another on premises where service has already been installed. The Ohio commission allows $1 for this service. It allows a charge of $1 for moving an instrument from one location to another in the same room, $1.50 for moving from one room to another in the same floor, and $2 for moving an instrument from one floor of a building to another.

HUSBAND GETS USE OF MONEY

Judge Klinger, in common pleas court Saturday morning, heard a case entered by Minnie Marchant to enjoin Marquis Marchant from drawing any money from the bank pending a divorce suit now in the course of hearing.

The court ruled that Marchant is allowed to draw to the extent of $500 until the case has been disposed of.

DIDN'T BRING ALL SQUIRRELS BACK

Today, Desk Sergeant, Frank Elsie, of the central police station, is back on the job after spending a week's vacation near Washington Court House. Frank says he has done nothing the past week except hunt fish and eat extra meals, and for one week has forgotten the word crime. Just in order to show that hunting is good in that neck of the woods, the sergeant brought back a number of squirrels, and he says he left a lot down there some dead and some alive. Plumbelthman Joe Reed, who has been holding down the desk in Elsie's absence is on the street again, and Chief Roush has doubled back with Charles Blumstein, chief of Detectives, again. For the past six months these two men have been working a angle. Chief Roush declares the force is far more effective when this team works together.

FINED FOR SPEEDING.

After pleading guilty to a charge of speeding when arraigned in police court this morning, Otis Dotson, 26, 734 South Main Street, was given a fine of $10.

NEW CAVALRY TROOP MUSTERED IN; FIRST TO BE ORGANIZED

Seventy Lima Young Men Are Placed on Rolls of the State

MEN CONGRATULATED

By Adjutant General Who Says They Top List Yet Enrolled

The first cavalry troop to be mustered in to the Ohio National Guards was Lima's new company which was inspected and mustered in last evening by Adjutant General Roy E. Layton. The muster was held in the Blattenberg building on East Spring street.

General Layton arrived from Columbus last evening for the muster and was assisted by Colonel E. S. Bryant.

When the roll was called there were exactly 70 men to be mustered, several of the enlisted men being called out of the city. The General and the Colonel said it was by far the best looking and the cleanest looking body of men that they had had the pleasure of mustering into the National Guards. General Layton in his pleasing way told the Company that he was mighty glad to take such a body of men into the guards and that they in turn should be happy that they had now become a part of the Ohio National Guards as Ohio's National Guards played such a wonderful part in the World War.

Troop D.

There are three troops to be organized in Ohio this year. Cincinnati and Cleveland have Troops A and B respectively while Lima's Troop is known as Troop D.

The Troop will be mustered into the Federal Service in a couple of weeks by a Federal Officer. At that time the Commissioned and Non-Commissioned officers will be appointed. Lieutenant Harry Horner at that time will be appointed Captain and will have charge of the Troop.
